A TEACHER and softball coach who was nicknamed "Miss Hot Lips" faces five years in prison after she admitted having sex with a 17-year-old lad.

Ashley Rison, 31, bonked the male pupil EIGHT TIMES in the back of her car and was caught out after one of the romps was secretly filmed.

Rison and the teen were said to have indulged in what cops describe as "taboo sexual antics".

TUC rages at 20-year 'wage freeze'

THE "longest wage squeeze since Napoleonic times" has left UK families at breaking point, according to the head of the Trades Union Congress.

Workers are facing two decades with no real wage growth, Frances O'Grady told the TUC in Brighton. Prices have risen faster than wages since the financial crisis in 2008.

There was a "moral and economic argument for making sure people's pay packets at least keep up with inflation", she said.

"The economy has become skewed," said Ms O'Grady.

"We need people to have money in their pockets to spend to keep our High Streets open."

The TUC is warning that anger felt by workers will lead to hundreds of thousands going on strike.

Big power bills are here to stay

ENERGY costs are set to remain high for a "sustained period" and homes and businesses should be encouraged to use of renewables, says to an energy boss.

Nigel Pocklington, chief of renewable firm Good Energy, said: "We should be encouraging homes and businesses to become more independent in energy usage... all of which will help buffer us from what will be, I think, a sustained period of high energy costs now."

"The truth here is that gas is in relatively short supply - that is where renewables can play a big part."

SHOOT THEM OFF!

Commuters vent frustration as M25 protest enters second day

COMMUTERS took to social media to vent their frustration as the Dartford Crossing was blocked by Just Stop Oil protesters for the second day in a row.

The QEII Bridge, which carries the M25 over the Thames between Kent and Essex, was closed on Monday after it was scaled by two climbers from the group.

The environmental activist group has demanded that the Government "halts all new oil and gas licences and consents" and said climbers will remain on top of the bridge until they are "brought down". And some drivers even suggested cops should SHOOT the eco-loons off their perch. Twitter user LuvWright raged: "Day 2 of no work because of them cts, shoot them off the fking thing."

National Highways said it has no estimate of when the bridge will reopen and that there are about six miles of congestion on either side of the crossing.

A spokesperson for Essex Police said: "We're working with our partners to identify the safest and quickest way to resolve the situation. But they're 100 metres up in the air. It's very complex. These things can take time."

Morgan Trowland, a civil engineer from London, one of the protesters who scaled the bridge, said in a video on Twitter: "We just survived the first night up here. I was pretty cold, didn't sleep much but I'm OK."

"We're up here until the Government makes a meaningful statement to cancel all new licences and consents for oil and gas extraction. Oil and gas are killing us now and it's driving millions into poverty this winter.

"We have to have an emergency transition to renewable energy, quite a stable, affordable energy."

"Now is the moment for civil resistance."

Minister will quit if Army budget is cut

ARMED forces minister James Heappey has publicly threatened to quit if new Chancellor Jeremy Hunt ditches Prime Minister Liz Truss's key commitment to boost defence spending.

Defence Secretary Ben Wallace would also be under pressure to resign if the Prime Minister's promise to spend 3% of national income on defence by 2030 was broken.

Mr Heappey said he and Mr Wallace, who is tipped as a potential successor in Downing Street, both believe the pledge "must be delivered" and warned there is "no prosperity without security".

Mr Hunt has refused to rule out rowing back as he searches for cuts to plug a multimillion-pound black hole in the nation's finances.

Mr Heappey warned Ms Truss cannot afford to make more errors as he defended the Government.

He believes the Government still backs the target, but asked if he would quit in the face of a U-turn, he said: "Yeah. But no-one says 3% is not going to happen by 2030."

Moor is less for drivers

A MOTORWAY services in West Yorkshire has been ranked the worst in Britain.

Hartshead Moor East is the least popular out of 119 stops analysed, according to a survey of 31,000 visitors by Transport Focus.

The Welcome Break-owned site on the M62 near Huddersfield received an overall satisfaction rating of just 80%.

Only three out of four (75%) visitors were satisfied with the toilets.

The services is on the busiest route across the Pennines from Lancashire to Yorkshire.

The ranking was topped by Moto's Rugby services on the M6 in Warwickshire.

This was the only location to score 100%.

News: "We've approached the people involved and have been clear of them that it's our expectation they would not continue to be part of that organisation."

Trussy's approval rating is MINUS 70

THE SHITTEST PM EVER... AND THAT'S OFFICIAL!

WE DON'T TRUSS YOU: The PM's ratings are rock bottom

LIZ Truss is now the worst PM in UK history - and that's official.

After just six weeks in the top job, her net favourability rating has plunged to minus 70 according to YouGov, a 14-point drop since the previous record low - set by Liz Truss last week.

Just 10% of Britons had a favourable opinion of the Prime Minister, with 80% viewing her unfavourably.

Among Tory voters her support continues to plummet: 20% had a favourable view of their party's leader, with 71% having an unfavourable view. The Prime Minister's current net favourability score of minus 51 among Tory voters is down 26 points since last week.

YouGov surveyed 1,724 British adults between October 14 and 16.

Yesterday a grim-faced Cabinet met, less than 24 hours after new Chancellor ripped apart the Truss-Kwarteng mini-Budget that plunged Britain into financial turmoil.

As ministers entered Number 10, eccentric Jacob Rees-Mogg was the only one who gave a ringing endorsement of the Prime Minister. While other colleagues were tight-lipped, the Business Secretary appeared delighted to see the reporters opposite No 10, asking: "How are you? Very nice to see you."

Mr Rees-Mogg said that ministers were "fully" behind Liz Truss, before heading into the Cabinet meeting.

Terse

Colleagues were more reticent, with a number ignoring shouted questions about the PM's survival.

When asked if Ms Truss would remain in office, Work and Pensions Secretary Chloe Smith offered only a terse "yes" before entering No 10. After the meeting broke up, transport secretary Anne-Marie Trevelyan said the Prime Minister "probably" has the backing of her ministers.

Cabinet allies fear Miss Truss could be forced out if she fails to set out a convincing argument in the coming days for why she should be allowed to continue.

One senior Tory said: "She needs to show people she's got the capacity to get out of the mess she's made - so far she's a very long way from doing that."

In an interview on Monday night, the PM apologised for the clusterfk but insisted she will lead the Tories into the next election

RAF ACES BANNED FROM TRAINING CHINA PILOTS

(You mean they're not ALREADY?)

THE Government will seek to change the law to prevent military pilots training the Chinese army.

Armed forces minister James Heappey said: "China is a competitor that is threatening the UK interest in many places around the world," while Tobias Ellwood, chairman of the Commons Defence Committee (right), said he is "surprised" that something "akin to the Official Secrets Act" is not already in place to stop it from happening.

The BBC reports up to 30 former pilots are believed to have trained China's People's Liberation Army.

The Ministry of Defence (MoD) has issued an intelligence alert warning pilots against taking part.

DREW B: I DON'T HATE SEX!

Star hits back after comment in the gym

DREW Barrymore has denied that she dislikes nookie after a woman called her a "sex hater" at the gym.

Last month Drew, 47, addressed actor Andrew Garfield's claim that he gave up sex for six months ahead of playing a Jesuit priest for the 2016 film Silence.

In response, the actress – a single mother who has been candid about dating dilemmas on the show – quipped: "What is wrong with me that six months doesn't seem like a very long time? I was like, 'Yeah so?'"

But some took that off-handed remark about celibacy the wrong way, as she discovered when she was recently approached by a woman finishing a workout.

"You look just like Drew Barrymore except you look like you have mental wellness and besides, she hates sex," the woman told her.

Now, in a long blog post, former ET child star Drew has denied hating sex.

She wrote: "So for the record, I do not hate sex!

"I have just finally come to the epiphany that love and sex are simply not the same thing. I searched my whole life to be a calm woman and not a bombastic party girl.

"Also, when you grow up and are in a marriage with kids and you think you'll only be with this one person for the rest of your life and then that doesn't happen? It rocked me to my core, to put it lightly.

"But I am lucky enough to have my cup runneth over in the love department – I have my two daughters, and for the first time ever in my life, I'm including self-love, too.

"Maybe in the near future I will get into a relationship, but it simply hasn't been my priority. I'm not a person who needs sex."

CROWN AND OUT

NETFLIX is in crisis over the backlash to the latest series of its mega-budget drama The Crown.

The streaming giant is said to be 'spooked' by the outrage that some storylines have caused – even before it has been broadcast next month.

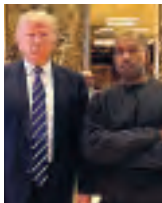

Netflix spends £11.5 million per episode on the show, which is one of its biggest global hits, and is about to launch series five.

It will cover 1991 to 1997, and include details of Diana's Panorama interview in 1995.

King Charles, played by Dominic West (right), is shown lobbying Prime Minister John Major in a bizarre attempt to force his mother's abdication.

A production source said media outrage over inaccuracies – and the lack of sensitivity in airing the series so close to the death of the Queen – is 'spooking' Netflix.

Trump says Kanye has gone West

EVEN Donald Trump thinks Kanye West has gone bonkers.

The former president believes the rapper is acting too "crazy" in the wake of his recent anti-Semitic outbursts and public meltdowns.

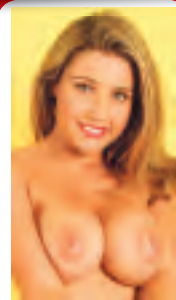

Trump, who has previously boasted that West has been "a friend of mine for a long time," has told multiple people in recent days that he thinks the songwriter needs professional "help".

Trump is now intentionally trying to keep his public distance from West – now known legally as Ye – following his recent tirades.

West has sparked outrage over a series of anti-Semitic posts, which led to him being booted from both Instagram and Twitter.

He shared a since-deleted screenshot on Insta of an iMessage exchange in which he accused Sean Combs, aka Diddy, of being controlled by Jews.

MORE WOE FOR VICE GIRL WHO SUCKED OFF TABLOID-HATING ACTOR...

HUGH GRANT BLOWJOB HOOKER FACES 30 YEARS IN PRISON

SUNK TO NEW LOWS: Divine

By BRAD CHADWICK
news@sundaysport.co.uk

THE vice girl who sucked off fop actor Hugh Grant in 1995 faces 30 YEARS in jail after hitting a kid and hiding drugs in her MINGE.

Divine Brown, now 53, was charged with battery, cruelty to children, possession of drugs and smuggling suspected cocaine into a jail.

Police called to Divine's apartment in Atlanta, Georgia, found Divine, who was arrested under her real name of Estella Thompson, appearing drunk with "very slurred speech".

Officers found her 13-year-old alleged victim, who said she had been hit.

The teenager told officers Divine was under the influence of "alcohol or something as she had seen her pop pills before".

The police report said Divine had been "grabbing her by her arm, throwing her around the apartment, slamming her on the couch".

NICKED: Grant and Brown back in 1995

Attending Officer Chance Gilbert wrote: "Once she was able to break away, she tried to run out of the door, and Divine grabbed her by the face and scratched her on the left side of her face."

The girl was taken to hospital, while Divine was taken to Fulton County Jail, where officers discovered she had suspected cocaine hidden up her well-used fanny.

The case is still open and a conviction for unlawful possession of drugs is punishable by up to 30 years' jail.

First-degree cruelty to kids in Georgia carries a maximum stretch of 20 years in prison.

Despite claims her dalliance with the then-34-year-old Hugh Grant had brought her great wealth and the "most wonderful life", the public records show she has had at least 36 different addresses, often being evicted.

She has more than 18 legal judgements against her and has been taken to court for all manner of other offences, including perjury and theft of services.

She and the 62-year-old Brit actor, a noted anti-tabloid newspaper campaigner, were arrested on June 27, 1995, for a £45 sex act in a public place.

Divine went to star in porn films and in girlie shoots in men's magazines.

PERV HAD SEX WITH ELMO DOLL

A SURVEYOR has been convicted after having sex with an Elmo doll while checking out a house.

Kevin VanLuven, 60, was found guilty of aggravated indecent exposure after a one-day trial.

The jury acquitted VanLuven of malicious destruction of property, after he spunked on the Sesame Street puppet.

Judge Phyllis McMillen scheduled VanLuven's sentencing for December 2. The indecent exposure count carries a maximum penalty of two years in jail.

VanLuven was arrested last year after the owners of a suburban Detroit, Michigan, home contacted officers to report that a nanny cam recorded VanLuven (left) pleasuring himself with the doll inside the home.

VanLuven was inspecting the home on behalf of a potential purchaser. The home's owners had let VanLuven, another surveyor, the buyers, and an estate agent into the property.

When the inspection began, the owners and their two small boys left the three-bedroom house.

After two hours had passed, homeowner Jaida Dodson remotely accessed her home security cameras to check on the progress of the inspection.

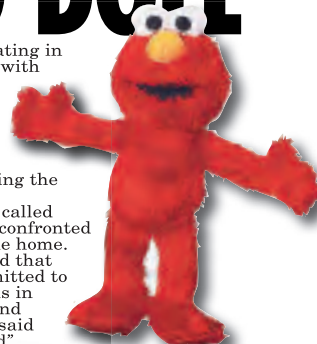

At a court hearing last year, Dodson testified that she saw VanLuven remove a Tickle Me Elmo doll that had been among stuffed animals stored in a small teepee tent in the bedroom of Dodson's two-year-old son.

VanLuven then allegedly "unzipped his pants and began masturbating in our son's closet with his Tickle Me Elmo," Dodson recalled.

The above surveillance still shows VanLuven holding the Elmo doll.

After Dodson called cops, an officer confronted VanLuven at the home. The cop reported that VanLuven "admitted to placing his penis in Elmo's mouth and apologised and said he was ashamed".

Corden says sorry for his diner tantrum

THE manager of a New York restaurant who banned Brit funnyman James Corden from his diner has said "all is forgiven" after reportedly receiving an apology from the actor and comedian.

Keith McNally briefly barred Corden from Balthazar in Manhattan on Monday after alleging that he had been "extremely nasty" to his staff on two separate occasions.

Yesterday he rescinded the ban after claiming to have had a call from the star.

He wrote on Instagram: "James Corden just called me and apologised profusely. Having fked up myself more than most people, I strongly believe in second chances."

"So if James Corden lets me host his Late Late Show for 9 months, I'll rescind his ban from Balthazar."

"No, of course not. Anyone magnanimous enough to apologise to a deadbeat layabout like me doesn't deserve to be banned from anywhere."

Glasto tickets on sale now... for just £340!

GLASTONBURY organiser Emily Eavis has said "incredibly challenging times" are behind the price hike for next year's event.

Tickets for the 2023 festival will cost £335 plus a £5 booking fee for standard tickets, with £50 as a deposit and the balance due by the first week of April.

The last time tickets went on general sale was in 2019, when they cost £265 plus a £5 booking fee for what should have been the 2020 festival, but it was cancelled for two years due to COVID.

Addressing the rise on Twitter, Eavis said: "We have tried very hard to minimise the increase in price but we're facing enormous rises in the costs of running this vast show, while recovering from the huge financial impact of COVID."

The offer from Co-op is "less than half" of the latest estimate of inflation according to the retail price index, at 12.3 per cent.

Unite would not confirm what the Co-op's pay offer was. Employees will walk out from October 31 every day until November 7.

KILLER ATE HIS OWN EYES

STAYING ON DEATH ROW:
Andre Thomas

Court confirms death sentence for brute

By BRAD CHADWICK
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A NUT convicted of murdering his family and who ate his OWN EYES has been told he will stay on Death Row.

Andre Thomas, who removed his eyes and ate one while in prison, claimed he went before a biased jury in his 2005 trial, where he was sentenced to death for killing his estranged wife and two children in a crime he said God made him do.

The inmate, who is black, claimed the all-white jury convicted him as they didn't approve of him having a white wife.

At least three expressed the racist belief, with one allegedly noting on a questionnaire: "I think we should stay with our Blood Line."

But the US Supreme Court ruled 6-3 to toss out Thomas' case. The court's three liberal judges chose to dissent, arguing that Thomas' conviction and death sentence should be overturned because his attorneys did not try to prevent the three jurors from serving.

"No jury deciding whether to recommend a death sentence should be tainted by potential racial biases that could infect its deliberations or decision, particularly where the case involved an interracial crime," Justice Sonia Sotomayor wrote. Justices Elena Kagan and Ketanji Brown Jackson also joined Sotomayor's opinion.

Texas officials asked the Supreme Court not to entertain Thomas's appeal, claiming that his attorneys questioned the jurors "extensively" about racial prejudices prior to trial and decided the jurors could provide an impartial decision.

Lower courts previously rejected appeals by Thomas that claimed he is too mentally ill to be executed.

His lawyer Maurie Levin said in a statement: "To pursue his execution would be nothing but an ugly spectacle and would not make Texans safer," arguing Thomas should spend life in jail.

ROAD-TUG OAP FINED

A MAN who was twice caught wanking at the side of the road in broad daylight has appeared in court. Blackburn Magistrates' Court heard Graham Guise, 67, was facing the road so anyone passing could see what he was doing.

The pensioner, who had insisted he had a weak bladder and needed a wee, was convicted of two charges of outraging public decency and made the subject of a community order for 12 months.

Guise was also fined £140 and told to pay £300 costs plus a £95 victim surcharge.

District Judge Alex Boyd told him: "You placed yourself in a location where you will be seen by a number of people."

Cow snot lube 'stops herpes'

A SEX lubricant made with cow snot could help protect against HIV and herpes, scientists say.

Lab experiments proved the gel, which would be applied in the same way as shop-bought ones, could beat the sexually transmitted infections.

Human cells first treated with the lubricant were 70 to 80 percent less likely to get infected with HIV and herpes.

The researchers, from the KTH Royal Institute of Technology in Stockholm, Sweden, examined if mucus could stop STIs from getting into the body and spreading in the same way.

The team, led by Hongji Yan, extracted mucus from cow salivary glands, which they turned into a mucin-based lubricant.

The gel could help users take greater control of their sexual health.

Cops were called to the Travel Lodge Motel in Beckley, West Virginia, following an indecent exposure complaint.

A motel worker told them a man walked into the breakfast dining area, and she told him to leave several times. She left and came back to see if he'd gone, but found the man in just a T-shirt, with his genitals exposed.

Before cops arrived, the suspect locked himself inside the food pantry connected to the breakfast dining area.

When police forcibly opened the door, they found the suspect inside, completely naked.

The suspect was nicked and charged with indecent exposure.

Chilling Planet of the Apes warning from boffins...

MONKEYS ARE TURNING HUMAN!

By COLIN HURST

news@sundaysport.co.uk

ONCE again, the Planet of the Apes movies have been proved to be a chilling prediction...

Because, thanks in part to global warming, monkeys are turning into HUMANS!

Monkey and lemur species which have always been known to live in trees are now beginning to spend a lot more time roaming the forest floor in response to devastating levels of deforestation and climate change.

The move from tree to the forest floor started humankind on the path towards ultimate domination of the entire planet.

Overlords

But boffins now reckon it's just a "matter of time" before we are forced to bow to our monkey overlords.

A new study based on more than 150,000 hours of observation, looked at 47 tree-dwelling primate species living across almost 70 sites in Madagascar and the Americas.

This research has shown the big change in habitat is a global trend and not centralised to one area affected by deforestation and climate change.

Giuseppe Donati, of Oxford Brookes University, said the tree-dwellers are being forced to the ground to seek shade and water as temperatures in the forest continue to rise.

Speaking to New Scientist about the latest discovery, he said: "In most tropical countries where these species live, humans log the forest."

"This creates gaps and it opens the canopy of the forest. That causes an increase in temperature."

He went on to say that deforestation "is working together with climate change" to force these animals into finding new habitats and learning how to survive in them.

These current changes are taking place far more rapidly than the natural fluctuations in the Earth's climate that have been recorded in the past, and our monkey cousins will struggle to adapt in the same way we did.

Naturism's on rise in Britain

THE biggest-ever poll into naturism in the UK has found 14% of people now describe themselves as nudists or naturists.

Around 6.75 million people – roughly one in seven – like to lose their clothes while enjoying activities like swimming or sunbathing, according to the survey by Ipsos.

"It turns out that there's a huge, hidden enthusiasm for nude recreation," said Dr Mark Bass, the president of British Naturism.

"Attitudes to nudity are changing with taboos and stigma being eroded."

Back in 2011, just 6% of those polled considered themselves to be naturists.

TEACHER OFFERS ONLYFANS CLASS

A FORMER high school teacher who left the classroom to make seven figures flaunting her flesh on OnlyFans is offering a training course to help others follow in her X-rated footsteps.

Courtney Tillia, 34, unveiled the £30 course on her website, but is sharing her expertise for free with other educators.

Aspiring adult models would learn how to market and brand themselves on the pornographic platform, in addition to "dealing with objections/fears/insecurities."

The ex-special needs teacher and mum, from Arizona, will also show aspiring models how to keep their identities private "if needed," while utilising media and publicity to grow subscribers.

Tillia bragged last year about "changing lives" while earning big bucks – more than a million dollars in three years.

"Back when I was a teacher, my family struggled financially," Tillia said. "OnlyFans allows me financial freedom. I can provide everything we need and more."

Axe in pants man yelled at shoppers

A MAN is in legal hot water after he scared the "bejeebies" out of supermarket customers during an outlandish shopping trip.

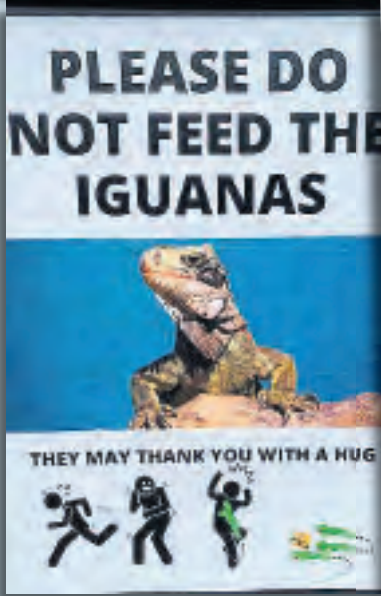

Cops in Texarkana, Texas, accused Jerry Toney of rushing up to people in the Walmart store's car park with a hatchet attached to the front of his pants as he screamed things "that made no sense".

"Obviously his very bizarre behaviour was scaring the bejeebies out of the people he was running up on," the police department said on Facebook.

Authorities noted he never actually took the hatchet out of his pants to directly threaten anyone during his antics.

Two police officers located the 25-year-old (above) as he jumped into a truck that was reported stolen in a Texas county about 100 miles away.

Toney was charged with hollering and making mischief within city limits.

...WITH
STELLA

BRIGHTON

MY fave sexual fantasy is doing it on a beach on a secluded tropical island.

We would be somewhere beautiful and exotic, like the Caribbean – with pure blue skies and white sands. And we'd be walking about exploring when we come across a beautiful waterfall near a sandy enclave and we stop there for a dip. I'm feeling confident and sexy in my skimpy bikini and golden tan. His hands are all over me and we can't wait until we get back to our apartment. Then he takes me as we're standing up in the waterfall and the cool water gently cascades over us and feels amazing on our skin, that's so warm from the sun. It is a sensory overload and we both have incredible orgasms together. Anyone could walk by and see us but we're so turned on it's gone past the point where we could stop! Right, I need to book me a holiday! The only problem is I'm single right now. Any offers to join me in the Caribbean?

Pipe bomb in gift box love rival faces jail

A MEDIEVAL combat re-enactor tried to kill a romantic rival with a homemade pipe bomb hidden in a gift box.

Clayton McCoy, 32 (above), pleaded guilty to transporting explosives with intent to injure and to possession of an unregistered firearm/explosive device.

According to his guilty plea, McCoy, of Ohio, knew the victim and his girlfriend for several years through a live-action medieval role-playing battle game and social club called Dagorhir.

In October 2020, he professed his love to the woman, but she told him she was in a relationship and that she did not share his romantic feelings.

After the rejection, McCoy came up with a plan to kill her boyfriend with a bomb "to remove him as a romantic rival".

When the victim opened the gift box, the bomb exploded, pelting him with shrapnel that punctured his chest, legs and the front of his body.

McCoy faces up to 30 years in prison.

Man charged over naked freezer act at petrol station

A MAN caused mayhem when he stripped naked at a petrol station and jumped into a freezer filled with bagged ice.

Jonathan Martin Beck, 35, from East Earl in Philadelphia, removed all his clothing while at a petrol pump, exposing his genitals to customers.

Beck then removed several ice bags from a freezer and jumped inside – causing several bags of ice to later be binned.

Police were called to the convenience store of the petrol station and Beck later admitted to consuming marijuana and was also found to be in possession of the drug.

He now faces several charges, including indecent exposure, criminal mischief, possession of marijuana, and public drunkenness.

His preliminary hearing has been scheduled for November 10.

SOFTBALL MISS SHOVED BAT UP HER FANNY

QUIT: Ashley Rison has pleaded guilty

Teacher pleads guilty to sex with lad, 17

A SOFTBALL coach who had sex with a 17-year-old student EIGHT TIMES – including in the back of a car – is now facing up to five years in prison.

Ashley Rison, 31, a former high school PE teacher, pleaded guilty to sexual battery and gross sexual imposition.

She was caught after a clip of Rison and the teen romping in her car was sent to police.

Authorities also have footage of her pleasuring herself by inserting a softball bat into her wet FANNY, in a video she sent to the lad.

She worked at the New Miami school in Hamilton, Ohio, as a softball and basketball coach from August 2015.

Assistant Prosecutor Lindsay Sheehan said: "In addition to what the child tells us, we do have recordings of the pair where Ms. Rison makes multiple incriminating statements in asking... begging the child not to report her."

She quit her job in May 2021, on the day the crimes arrived at the Butler County Sheriff's Office.

It is unclear whether the alleged victim gave authorities the footage of himself and Rison, or if a separate eyewitness saw and recorded it.

Prosecutors also blame

By JULIE SHEPHERD
news@sundaysport.co.uk

her for tampering with evidence and giving booze to an underage person, but these were later dropped.

Supt Rhonda Parker said: "Ashley Rison is no longer employed by the New Miami Local School Board. Effective May 3, 2021, she resigned from her position."

Prosecutor Mike Gmoser said: "It was discovered she was in a car with the victim, and observed, and it went from there."

"Every prosecutor that I have ever known, and in every state I have ever dealt with, takes cases involving teachers and students very seriously with respect to sexual conduct and contact."

"We are dealing with impressionable young minds, and along comes an adult who takes advantage of them."

Oh my Lourdes...look at them busters!

LOURDES Leon showed that she is her mother's daughter when she posed in a stunning frock that showed off her BOOBS!

The model posed next to fellow musician and instrumentalist, Trinity Vigorsky, in the collection of stylish snaps, and possibly hinted at a potential collaboration in the caption.

Madonna's oldest daughter celebrated her 26th birthday last week.

One fan said: "I hope she does a book, like her mum did back in the day."

"Only with a few American-strength, held-open pics. And some pissing, ideally."

JUSTIN DUNN'S ROOM 101

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

There WILL be a revolution!

WHAT a fking mess.

What a catastrophe.

What a waste.

And what a perfect example, that we're all now witnessing, of how politicians really don't give a monkey's fk about the people who they are supposed to "serve".

It didn't matter that he won a thumping 80-seat majority.

It didn't matter that he crushed Jeremy Corbyn's marrow-fuelled dream of a socialist Utopia, where money grew on trees and terrorists became our best buds.

Because anyone who was "anyone" was out to get Boris from day one.

Because every single one of the "anyones" hate Brexit and regard anyone remotely associated with it with utter disdain.

Which includes you and me – the little people who merely pay the country's bills.

Look around.

The universities, the councils, the quangos, the Church of England, the NHS, the police, and even the military. All run by Brexit-hating bureaucrats who really don't like you at all.

Limp

And all of them absolutely determined to overhaul the biggest democratic decision EVER to have taken place in this country, which was to leave a limp, dull, coffee-breathed political get-together called the EU.

Power back to the people, and all that.

But at the last count, there were 356 Conservative MPs "serving" in the House of Commons.

All of them there because they pledged solemnly to back Brexit.

And when Boris fell on his sword, those few hundred – out of nearly 70 million citizens, remember – then had to decide on a new leader.

Now, let's also remember that many of those near-70m citizens are children, unable to vote.

More still are in prison. Or in mentalist hospitals.

Or, even more unfortunately, Liberal Democrats.

And, nowadays, quite of a few of them are indescribable – other than "illegal" – because they supposedly lost their entire identities when their papers fell overboard into the murky depths of the English Channel.

But even all that doesn't matter for now.

The truth is, not very many of any of those relatively tiny number of Tory MPs wanted Liz Truss, the mousey Brexit convert.

She only scraped into No. 10 because the fee-paying members of that party preferred her over Boris back-stabber and billionaire-in-waiting, Rishi Sunak.

THE UPSIDE DOWN: Hunt and Truss

But a bloke called Jeremy Hunt – I have to double check I have not accidentally-on-purpose called him Ct – fared even worse.

Out of that 356 throng, only a miniscule number believed that the former Foreign Secretary and Health Secretary deserved to take the next step up.

"Miniscule" being that only 18 Tory MPs supported his bid to become boss.

Which means 338 did not.

And yet, somehow, today, in our chaotic, upside-down world, he is our new, de facto Prime Minister.

This self-made tech millionaire, an arch Remainer, a wet-from-within foisted upon us all in the middle of an economic nightmare of their making.

The nodding dogs from the left, along with the Beeb and the wet lettuce of The Guardian, will all agree that it's time to now let Brexit go and let the usual twats take charge once again.

But you read it here first.

They can fk around with their parties, and their leaders and their Westminster machinations all they like.

Just don't underestimate the British public.

There WILL be a revolution if they go back on what we voted for.

Evicted son stabs own mum dead

A MAN stabbed his own mother to death and left her in a pool of blood after she threw him out of her home for being a twat.

Levi Isaac Davis, 26 (above), was arrested after his mum, Karly Cantrell, was found dead at her home in Middleton, Idaho, where she had been stabbed in the neck and abdomen.

Her husband, Kevin Kline, arrived home and found Karly lying in a pool of blood in the living room, with chunks of her hair and skin missing.

Davis, who Cantrell had kicked out for "poor behaviour", was arrested at a halfway house in nearby Nampa after a neighbour told police that a vehicle matching the suspect's was in the area.

Arresting officers found bloodstained clothes in Davis's car and bedroom, as well as various wounds on him, including a deep cut on the thigh and a burn mark on his arm.

Davis is charged with murder and is due in court this week.

Junkie nicked family ashes to buy smack

A JUNKIE nicked off with the cremated remains of his ex-girlfriend's mother to sell, so he could score some heroin.

Jackson Rutland, 19, texted his ex and told her he had taken her mum's ashes from her home in Warrensville, South Carolina, while she was visiting a friend.

When she returned home, she found the back door kicked in and the home was ransacked. She told police her mother's ashes had been tampered with and some had been spilled on the floor.

"I've never heard of anything like this," Aiken County Sheriff's Capt Eric Abdullah said.

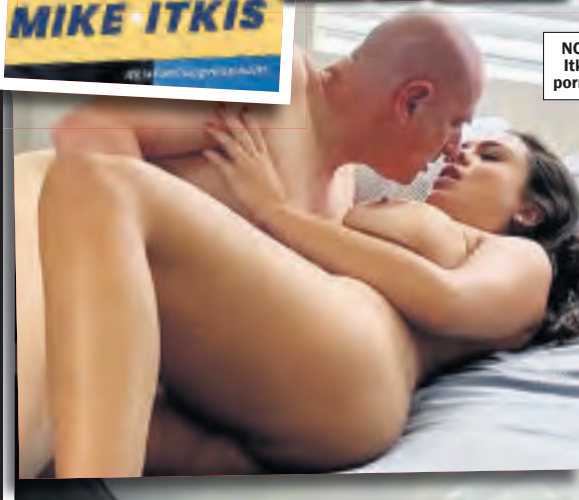

Rutland was arrested and charged with destruction, desecration or removal of human remains and burglary.

WOULD-BE MP RELEASES PORN TAPE IN CAMPAIGN...

I WANNA BE ERECTED!

NOT CAMERA SHY:
Itkis performs with porn star Nicole Sage

By BRAD CHADWICK
news@sundaysport.co.uk

IF you think politics in the UK is insane, it's got nothing on the Yanks...

Because an army veteran running for high office has released a PORN VIDEO as part of his election campaign.

Mike Itkis is hoping to become a congressman – the US equivalent of a British MP – in New York and now he's made the sex tape in a bizarre move to demonstrate his commitment to his "sex-positive approach."

Mike is running in New York's 12th district, where he is attempting to unseat long-term Democratic politician Rep Jerry Nadler, the longtime Democrat.

Itkis, an independent, is running on a platform that includes sex positivity as one of his keystone issues and supports legalising sex work.

The cybersecurity specialist and major in the US Army Reserves called his video posted to Pornhub a "conversation piece".

He said: "I'm very much an introvert. I'm kind of a nerd who doesn't like to be the centre of attention if I can avoid it. But I thought the issues I'm trying to address are so important."

"I wanted to have my issues talked about in some way."

Three months ago, 53-year-old Itkis posted a video on Pornhub of him having sex with anal porn queen Nicole Sage, 27 – an encounter that was filmed last year.

Mike didn't call attention to his porn vid, called Bucket List Bonanza, until a mag interview during which he highlighted his sex-positive platform.

His campaign page says his background is: "Not married. No kids. Not celibate. Atheist," and that he is dedicated to making sexual rights explicit by "ending adultery laws and decriminalising and legalising sex work."

Itkis's Republican opponent, Mike Zumbluska, observed: "You gotta do what you gotta do."

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Ashleigh,

A PAL of mine organised an orgy and invited me and the wife along for some saucy fun and games.

It was being held in a posh hotel and the idea was for all the girls to wear suspenders and stockings.

The wife was reluctant but agreed – so long as we just watched rather than got stuck in.

We're both in our mid-40s and when we got there, as agreed, I stood around watching everyone servicing each other.

After a while, I noticed that the wife was missing so I took a wander along to another room – and saw her on all fours.

She was being rogered by a young stud from behind while she tucked in to a girl's bald fanny with her tongue.

I stormed off and now we're not talking.

What should I do?

FH, Glasgow

Ashleigh says...

GO to the next one and get stuck k in yourself!

Dear Ashleigh,

FEELING a bit on the tubby side just lately, I decided it was about time I got myself fit.

So I joined a health club and went for a swim. I was about to plunge in when I spotted a very tasty looking woman of about 30 in a skimpy yellow bikini.

We were alone in the pool and I felt a stiffy coming on. She must have sensed what I was thinking as she swam over and straight out said she wanted a shag.

She stood against the side wall and eased her bikini bottoms aside as I penetrated her. I started to build up a rhythm when one of the assistants appeared and called out: "Stop right now!"

My erection vanished and we both exited the pool, arranging to meet in the car park. There I set about her but I couldn't get it up.

Could I get a refund on my health club membership.

NT, Hull

Ashleigh says...

YOU can try but it'll get you nowhere.

Missus only wants us to get dirty in the shower

Dear Ashleigh,

AFTER 15 years of marriage, which began with rampant nookie, things have gone very quiet on the sex front.

But it all changed the other night when I was getting myself ready for bed.

I went to the bathroom and surprisingly found the door unlocked and the wife in the shower.

And what a shock I got. The missus was thrusting a huge, pink dildo inside her pussy like a pneumatic drill.

Her head was thrown back and she was feeling her nipples with her free hand.

I tore aside the shower curtain, grabbed the dildo and threw it out of the bathroom onto the landing.

Then I ripped off my pyjamas to reveal my throbbing eight-inch.

"Is this what you've been missing?" I demanded.

Before she could reply I slipped my cock into her sopping wet love-hole and rammed her hard up against the wet tiles inside the shower.

But now, although our sex life is definitely on the up, she'll only let me do her in the shower.

What do you reckon?

JK, Notts

Ashleigh says...

DON'T worry about it, there's nothing like good, clean fun!

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week ASHLEIGH GEE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Wife and her pals love to play with my model cock!

Dear Ashleigh,

RECENTLY, more for novelty than anything sexually kinky, my wife and I invested a decent amount of money in a "mould-a-willy" kit.

This get-up enables a man to make a lifesize replica of his own cock using plaster of Paris and moulding rubber.

Without wanting to sound massively big-headed, I was rather proud of the model, as it put my wife's other sex toys in the shade.

Me and my wife had hours of fun as I used my real cock on her backside and frigged away with the rubber one on her muff.

The other week she went to a sex toys party at a friend's house and took my plaster cock along with her for a laugh.

Naughty

But when she got home, she said all her mates were hooked on the idea and asked if we could make at least another half-dozen to sell to her friends.

I said OK as long as she put on a show for me with all the great naughty gear she'd bought at the party.

Soon she was in a tiny maid's outfit, white fishnets and suspenders sucking on my manhood while I delivered my fake cock up her pussy.

Then I put our friend to one side and gave her a proper shafting with the real thing.

She'd soon sold all the moulded willies we made and I started to get knowing smiles and cheeky comments from women in the village.

One even insisted on taking me down the back fields and getting a taste of the real thing.

She sucked so hard on my cock it was painful and then she demanded I do her doggy-style out in the open.

Since then I've had hot sex with nearly all my wife's friends.

My missus doesn't mind and wants to go on selling my cock dildos.

But I've already had one angry run-in with a furious husband and now I am beginning to regret the whole thing.

SD, east Yorkshire

Dear Ashleigh,

MY girlfriend is gorgeous but she is also into energetic bondage.

She's had me parading round naked with a lead around my neck, and I've been forced to bark and beg for sex.

I have to lap water from a bowl at the foot of the bed before she'll let me give her a tonguing, and all this palaver is getting me down when all I want is a straightforward shag.

For the past week at bedtime she has tied me up to the bedpost before sucking my cock.

It turns me on, but at times I feel humiliated. What can I do?

PD, Essex

Ashleigh says...

HOW much are you charging for them? I'd really like a go on one myself.

Ashleigh says...

NOTHING, I'm afraid. She won't change now.

I feel cobblers after corn-shagging wife

Dear Ashleigh,

I'VE been reading in your paper's great columns how couples indulge in all sorts of exotic sexual practices – even if some of them are enough to make my eyes water.

Although I've been married for 15 years, the most adventurous I've managed to get with the missus was the night I took her doggy-style over the balcony on holiday.

She seemed to enjoy it, although that might have had something to do with the vast quantity of wine that we'd put away.

I've always fancied trying out a cucumber or carrot on her but was inspired when I heard a programme on the radio about barbecues and sweetcorn.

So the other night after a bit of booze I produced a corn cob, and as the missus was bent over the sink I rubbed it along her bum crack.

Thinking it was my cock, she turned expectantly and was amazed when she saw me holding the knobbly vegetable – and even more so when I blurted out what I wanted to do with it.

But to my amazement she agreed and, while she lay on the kitchen floor, I inserted it up her moist fanny.

After she'd had a huge orgasm she declared that the cob was better than my knob on account of its extra length, girth and texture.

All well and good, you'd think, but now I'm worried I won't be able to satisfy her again.

What can I do?

DB, Cornwall

Ashleigh says...

PLACE a regular order in with your greengrocer.

Dear Ashleigh,

I'M a very highly-sexed married woman, and until recently I had been faithful to my husband during our 19 years of marriage.

It was my son's 18th birthday and we had a small party at home for the family, his girlfriend and his best mate, who is coming up to 19 years old.

At the end of the night my husband drove my parents and my son's girlfriend home, and my son went with them.

This left me with my son's mate, who was well pissed.

We said he could sleep in my son's room, so I helped him onto the bed and unbuttoned his trousers – and was shocked to see that he wasn't wearing underpants.

Then I felt his hand running up my leg. When he reached the top of my stockings then into my knickers I relaxed back as he fiddled with my love-bud.

I couldn't resist his knob and began sucking him off. I then got into the doggy position and he filled every inch of me.

We've fked many times since and I am thinking of leaving my husband for him.

What do you think?

GL, west Yorks

Ashleigh says...

THOUGH it might be a huge thrill for you I think you're playing with fire and it will end in tears.

#HOT'N'HORNY

WHAT does mega-busty model Lucie Wilde like?

A hard cock up the bumhole, that's what!

The Czech scorcher is one of Europe's top porn stars and as well as boasting a staggering 34L chest, she also has a pretty elastic ringpiece that can take two full-engorged Johnsons at the same time!

Lucie laughed: "It takes a bit of choreography, does double anal, especially when I'm sucking off a bloke at the same time."

"I'm famous for looking a bit miserable in porn films but I am enjoying it - I'm just concentrating hard on my job."

SPECIAL OFFER: ANY 3 PRIVATE SHOPS DVDS FOR £25 (was £75)

IT'S finally time to say goodbye to the creepy Crawleys of Downton Abbey and hello to the horny hotties of buxom Bottomley Manor!

For all you red-blooded fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Downton Abbey this is your lucky day.

Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5 OFF the already low, low price.

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Small and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of noshing as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVDs at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars Ava Dalush as Missy, Cathy Heaven as Lucy, Emma Leigh as Betty, Jasmine Jae as Lady Wanda Grabhem, Jasmine James as Fanny Grabhem, Jess West as Lady Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby Grabhem, Ben Dover as Lord Will Grabhem, Big Bad Dave as Smithers and Clarke Kent as Master Bates.

TELEVISION X HD

BABE OF THE DAY

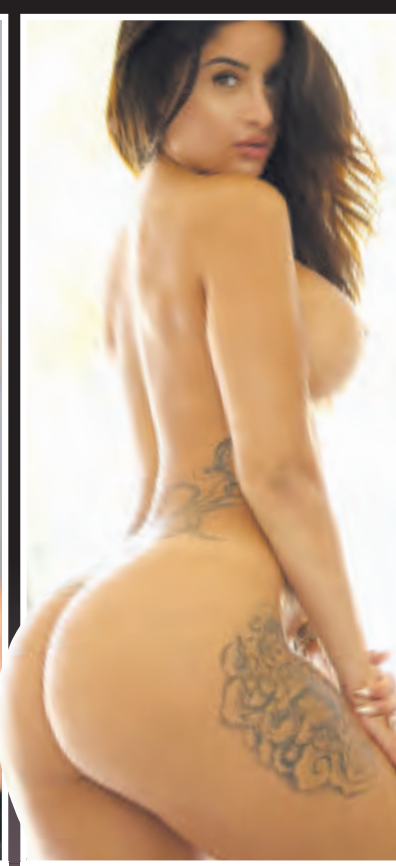

GOOD things come in small packages – which is very true for TelevisonX scorcher Evelin. The Bath model's sweet smile and pert 34B body soon get hot and sweaty in her steamy hardcore scenes – only available at the new TelevisonX catch-up app

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

WELCOME to the interactive Midweek Sport – where YOU get to choose the stunnas appearing on these pages!

That's right fellas, we publish sexy snaps of the babes you most want to see – TOPLESS or even NAKED.

Every Wednesday, Show Me The

Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls you're clamouring for. This service – UNIQUE to British newspapers – is totally FREE!

All you have to do is drop us an email to request@sundaysport.co.uk telling us why you want to see your favourite girl, then sit back and let us do the rest.

JO GUEST

TATTOO artist Freddie Kendrick says glamour legend Jo Guest is his dream woman.

Freddie, 44, from Gateshead, has been tattooing folk in the North East for years.

But he said he's never seen anyone as fit as Jo.

He said: "She's my ultimate babe – those boobs, those eyes – she's on another level!"

Well, we've dug out this top pic of the Chesterfield babe showing her huge pair of 36Cs just for you Freddie...enjoy!

DEE IVENS

HANDYMAN Jeff Pickering is off on his stag-do next weekend and wanted a saucy photo of Dee Ivens to show his mates.

Jeff, 45, from Harrogate, reckons a topless snap of the Essex legend will impress his pals on his stag-do in the historic city of York.

He said: "Can I have a photo of Dee with her 34D norks out please?"

"I need to show my mates, after going on about her for so long."

Here you go,
Harry!

Military can shoot bookies

MILITARY ORDER can show the benefit of his recent debut by opening his account in the British Stallion Studs EBF Future Stayers Novice Stakes at Newmarket.

There was quite a lot of talk when Military Order made the short journey from Charlie Appleby's Moulton Paddocks yard to HQ for his debut 18 days ago.

That is because the Frankel colt is a full-brother to last year's Derby and King George winner Adayar.

History

Sent off the odds-on favourite among a field of 10, a few might have been disappointed that he could only finish fourth.

It must be remembered, though, that Adayar himself filled the same position on his debut before winning on his final start at two and going on to create history at three.

Whether Military Order is going to do anything remotely close to the 2021 Derby winner is obviously a huge ask.

But there was enough promise in his debut run, and he was not knocked about, to suggest that he will know a lot more on this occasion.

By MIKE FRANCIS

You usually never go far wrong in backing Appleby and William Buick at Newmarket and they look to have another good chance with Light Of Peace in the Racing TV Fillies' Handicap.

Placed in all three of her starts to date, she has been off the track since finishing second back in June.

She obviously has had some minor issues, and being unraced at two connections will be very keen to get a win into her before this season is out.

Having shown a decent level of ability on all three of her runs, though, she is surely up to winning off what looks a pretty lenient handicap mark of 84.

Beaten a length and a half into third on debut by the now 94-rate Voodoo Queen she was then beaten just a short head by Whitebeam and she is now rated 103.

Most recently she was beaten a length by Pure Dignity who went on to chase home Laurel on her next start so bearing all that in mind she looks well treated.

There is always the hope that a card like this produces a star of the future and Greek Order, a full-brother to Sangarius, could be above average.

He was green on his debut at Salisbury but was still only beaten a length into third.

The odds are this Charlton-trained youngster will know more about the game this time in the Stephen Rowley Remembered Novice Stakes.

Marcus Tregoning's Marie Laveau also shaped very nicely on her debut and should take all the beating in the Discover Newmarket Fillies' Restricted Novice Stakes.

Rowayah is a well-bred Owen Burrows newcomer in the first division of the British Stallion Studs EBF Fillies' Novice Stakes who may be worth an interest at Kempton.

Better

In the second division John and Thady Gosden's Coppice, a full-sister to Calyx, certainly catches the eye.

Peter Bowen's Courtland has been off for over a year but likes quick ground and can take the Richard Wright Memorial Handicap Chase at Worcester.

The Christian Williams-trained Montgomery finished second on his only outing in a bumper for Tom Lacey and can go one better in the first division of the Download The At The Races App Maiden Hurdle at Fontwell.

Curran fancies England for glory

HOT FORM:
England and Curran have played well in the run-up to the World Cup

SAM CAN'T WAIT FOR WORLD OPENER AGAINST AFGHANISTAN

SAM Curran feels England are straining at the leash to start the T20 World Cup but Reece Topley has emerged as an injury scare ahead of their first match against Afghanistan.

Topley rolled his left ankle on a piece of advertisement foam on the boundary during some catching drills at Brisbane on Monday afternoon so he did not feature in their final warm-up against Pakistan.

England announced Topley "will be assessed throughout this week" and are hopeful of a swift recovery, but they do have Tymal Mills and Richard Gleeson on standby if the issue proves to be more serious.

It is an unwanted headache for England as they travel to Perth to take on Afghanistan on Saturday, with Topley becoming an increasingly dependable figure in the white-ball ranks since the turn of the year.

By JOHN ANTHONY

2022 and can bowl anywhere in an innings, with an economy rate of 7.8 impressive given he operates mainly in the powerplay at the death.

Curran and David Willey are England's other left-armers in their 15-strong squad so they are unlikely to this weekend risk Topley, who has overcome multiple stress fractures in his back during his career.

Curran is expected to be in England's XI against Afghanistan, irrespective of whether Topley features, and believes they are tracking well after an improvement in results recently following a disappointing summer.

England recorded a 4-3 win in Pakistan and then thrashed the same opponents by six wickets in a low-key practice match on Monday, having also beaten World Cup hosts and defending champions Australia 2-0.

"We're definitely ready now," Curran said. "We're feeling like we're almost not peaking but we're playing good cricket, (as shown in winning series against) Pakistan and Australia then this game.

"We're really excited, hopefully with a couple of good training sessions in Perth, come the weekend we'll be good."

Curran, who was ruled out of last year's World Cup a couple of weeks before it got under way with a stress fracture in his lower back, had some success against Australia bowling the 18th and 20th overs.

Renowned for his habit of being front and centre in the crucial moments of a game, Curran demonstrated his all-round ability with an unbeaten 33 off 14 balls against Pakistan on Monday.

Moved up to sixth in the order, one spot higher than where he is likely to bat against Afghanistan if he is selected, Curran showed he is quite adept at the finishing role with a cluster of boundaries.

Challenging

While batting towards the end of an innings is regarded as one of the most difficult aspects to perfect in T20 cricket, Curran revealed he takes his cues from those above him.

"It's very challenging but it's just a role you've got to enjoy," Curran said. "Guys like Moeen (Ali), (Liam) Livingstone, Harry Brook are experienced in that middle-over phase so they help me through it."

"You've got to train maybe in a certain way, (try to) predict what you're going to face. You see the way Livi plays, he knows his role, he knows he's going to come in and be attacking."

"There will be some days where it doesn't work, some days where it does."

"We knew we could get something out of this game (against Pakistan) but the way we played was really impressive."

While England go into the World Cup in buoyant mood after recent results, Curran warned against complacency given the first two days have already produced a couple of shocks, with Scotland upsetting the West Indies, the 2012 and 2016 champions, a day after Namibia stunned Asia Cup winners Sri Lanka.

"You take confidence from (winning) but at the same time, you've seen some of the results already at the World Cup," Curran added. "It's a T20 format, anything could happen."

"Afghanistan are a side that are extremely skilful, they've got a world-class players who can win you games by themselves. We know it's going to be a really tough opening game."

IWOBI ON ROLE MODEL MISSION

EVERTON midfielder Alex Iwobi wants to emulate his uncle Jay-Jay Okocha and become a role model for youngsters.

The Nigeria international has overcome a difficult start to his career at Goodison Park and is the player who has arguably flourished the most since Frank Lampard took over in January.

Iwobi is not a naturally out-going, self-confident person but he has been nurtured by Lampard, who has made him comfortable with a defined position in midfield, and is becoming a key player for his manager.

The 26-year-old grew up in awe of Okocha, a supremely-talented attacking midfielder who lit up the Premier League with Bolton in the early 2000s, and he hopes a little bit of family magic has transferred to him so he can inspire the next generation.

"He was an entertaining player to watch, and the skills he used to do were outrageous skills, that you only really see freestylers do," he said.

"So, yeah, hopefully the younger viewers will learn a bit more about him and understand why I chuck in some skills too."

"I mean, that's what kids want to see, you know – people having fun. He was a fun guy to watch."

"Sometimes I feel like I'm just that same kid that wants to express myself and play football but when I do realise that 'Wow, I have an influence on kids'. It's mad. I just want to put positive things out there for them."

"It's nice that kids look up to me and try to imitate me and play like me because I was once that kid who used to look up to my uncle.

By PAUL THOMAS

"I find it weird but I do enjoy it."

October is Black History Month and all Premier League matches last week were dedicated to No Room for Racism and players took the knee in all 20 matches to show their support.

Club captains decided at the start of the season to use the gesture more sparingly, using it at more significant moments like the round of Boxing Day games immediately after the World Cup, the final day of the season and cup finals.

Support

There has been a debate about whether taking the knee still carries the same impact but Iwobi is keen the message is still heard.

"Black lives do matter, all lives do matter, so it's just embracing that no matter where we are in the world, we are one, and everyone can embrace it," he added.

"Taking the knee, yeah, it's big, especially for kids who don't really know what's going on."

"If they look at the Premier League and players taking the knee, they will be interested to know the cause."

"By showing people out there that we support that and what it does for people I'm sure it educates them."

"If they see people in the Premier League, or see other people speaking out, it will make them feel more comfortable to share their experiences, and hopefully get some help and some guidance through whatever they're going through."

WALES SET TO COOK UP A STORM

ELLIOT Kear has challenged his Wales team-mates to make the most of an unprecedented opportunity to put their sport on the map as they prepare to kick off their Rugby League World Cup campaign against the Cook Islands.

The Bradford Bulls back is one of 13 Welsh-born players in a squad managed by the hugely-experienced John Kear – no relation – who have modest expectations of making inroads in a nation in which the rival code clearly reigns supreme.

"Having 13 Welsh-born players in the team is massive for us and it really shows how much rugby league is growing in the country," said Kear, who made his international and Super League debut 13 years ago.

"We've still got a long way to go to keep up with union, but from when I started playing when I was 18, to where the sport is now, it's grown tenfold and with opportunities like this, it can only keep going in the right direction."

"We're playing on the biggest stage in the sport and we're going to be in the shop window. Rugby league is now being played in schools in Wales and a lot of kids are going to get the chance to watch how we get on."

Wales, who have not been able to replicate their surprise semi-final appearance in 2000, will name a team blending young and experience, including one of only two uncapped players in former NRL full-back Caleb Aekins.

But Kear's men face a tough physical burden if they are to advance having been joined in Group D by Wednesday's opponents plus Tonga and Papua New Guinea.

"They're pretty big," admitted Kear. "We know it's going to be a tough group because Pacific island teams bring the usual size and physicality to the game."

"But we're pretty big too and we've got some top-level players and we expect to deliver."

Wigan have handed winger Liam Marshall a new three-year contract.

The 26-year-old, who has scored 93 tries in 121 appearances for his hometown club, said: "I'm very happy to sign this new contract – it was a no-brainer for me."

"I don't see myself playing anywhere else in Super League."

BIG WIN: Benzema

Benzema scores first Ballon D'Or

REAL Madrid and France forward Karim Benzema has won the Ballon d'Or for the first time.

Benzema beat Bayern Munich's former Liverpool forward Sadio Mane to the men's top prize, with Man City playmaker Kevin De Bruyne in third place.

In the women's award, England forward Beth Mead had to settle for runner-up as Barcelona and Spain midfielder Alexia Putellas won the trophy for the second successive year.

Benzema, 34, helped Los Blancos win the Champions League, defeating Liverpool in the final, to add to their LaLiga success in 2021-22, scoring 44 goals in 46 games.

Benzema said: "Seeing this prize in front of me makes me really proud.

"It was a childhood dream for me and all the work I have done, I never gave up. I am really proud of my journey here.

"It was not easy, it was a difficult time and also for my family as well. When I was not in the France team I never stopped working hard.

"To be standing here today for the first time, I am happy for my work and will keep going."

Putellas, 28, suffered a knee injury ahead of Euro 2022, where Arsenal striker Mead went on to be top scorer and was named player of the tournament as the Lionesses soared to victory on home soil when they beat Germany in the final at Wembley.

"I'm very happy to be back here and pleased because a year ago I was able to win this prize and it pushed me to want to be even better," said Putellas, who guided Barcelona to a domestic treble in the 2021-22 campaign.

"Injuring my knee in July, I did not think it would be possible."

Robert Lewandowski, again collected the Gerd Muller trophy for the best striker.

Liverpool striker Mohamed Salah placed fifth, with Paris St Germain and France forward Kylian Mbappe in sixth place.

Norway forward Erling Haaland, who joined Manchester City from Borussia Dortmund during the summer and has made a superb start to the new campaign with 20 goals so far, was ranked in 10th.

Five-time winner Cristiano Ronaldo finished in 20th, one ahead of Harry Kane, with the England captain's Spurs team-mate Son Heung-min 11th.

TOTTENHAM FACE A TRICKY TRIP

CONTE'S TAKING THE BLISS

Yves set for start against United after strong performance in Everton victory

ANTONIO Conte is toying with the idea of sticking with Tottenham's favoured 3-4-3 formation for the midweek trip to Manchester United despite a lack of attacking options.

Spurs will be without Richarlison (calf) for the clash at Old Trafford on Wednesday and Dejan Kulusevski is not expected to be fit enough to start after struggling during the last month with a hamstring injury.

When Richarlison was forced off in Saturday's win over Everton, Conte switched to 3-5-2 with Yves Bissouma again impressive.

Bissouma has caught the eye in a three-man midfield in victories against Leicester and Brighton, but the Tottenham manager hinted he may stick to what he knows best.

"I have another training session to make the best decision," Conte explained.

By PAUL THOMAS

"You know we like to play with a 3-4-3 with the three strikers and if we can't change, I prefer to continue to play with the 3-4-3 otherwise we find a solution.

"I think we have the possibility to continue to play with the 3-4-3."

"Lucas Moura now is recovered from his injury, also Bryan Gil is making big progress and then I have Ivan Perisic. He can play like a striker. He did this in the past and he can do it again on Wednesday."

Conte had religiously stuck with his favoured system prior to Kulusevski's injury last month but has tinkered in his absence.

The Sweden international was only expected to miss a couple of weeks but has sat out Tottenham's last five matches.

Kulusevski was not completely ruled out of Wednesday's fixture with United and yet Conte knows no risk can be taken with the 22-year-old.

He added: "The medical department are working to recover him, but at the same time, sometimes there are situations that you have to go a bit slowly and not to accelerate the process.

"Because sometimes if you accelerate the process, you risk only to worsen the situation. For this reason, we need to have patience.

Solution

"The player is important in this moment, in this period, to help us because his feeling is so important. We hope to have him in the squad very, very soon because you know very well, Deke is an important player for us.

"Richy is another important player for us. We need to play many games in a short period of time. We need to have the whole squad available for these games."

Kulusevski is one of several Tottenham players who will not head out to Qatar next month for the World Cup.

Conte could have up to 13 first-teamers staying in England and while they will get a short period of holiday, he is hopeful of taking a group abroad for warm-weather training while top-flight football is paused for six weeks.

"I gave my idea to the club. For sure I think every team will go to have a bit of rest – 10 days to two weeks – and then you need to make the best solution," he said.

"Then I would like to go to a place where the temperature is good, to stay there and have good training sessions and wait for the players to come back from the World Cup.

"At the same time you have to understand if the club can help me to do it or we have to stay in London

TO OLD TRAFFORD TONIGHT

SPURRED ON:
Bissouma can play a big part for Tottenham

but for sure I have given them my idea."

Djed Spence believes his tactical knowledge has improved since joining Tottenham and insists he will be "ready" for when a chance presents itself.

The £12.5m signing has barely featured following a summer move from Middlesbrough, with Conte referring to him as a "club signing" on several occasions.

The manager's tone on the England Under-21 full-back has become more positive in recent weeks, though, and he admitted that Spence was "starting to understand" the demands of being a Tottenham player.

A day later and the 22-year-old was rewarded with only his second appearance of the campaign in the final exchanges of the 2-0 win over Everton.

Spence said: "I am learning a lot from training and learning a lot from the guys, so I am learning a lot at the moment.

"I guess it is just something new that I have got to learn but I am working hard to improve, working hard to get in the team and hopefully I can get some run of games soon.

"I have just got to be patient and when my time comes, I've just got to take it."

Spence's late cameo against Everton saw him make an overdue home debut and his popularity with the Spurs fans was clear from the minute he was called back from his warm-up to the dugout.

A huge roar met his introduction and the defender believes he has settled in well at his new club.

"I appreciate the love from everybody," Spence added.

"Everyone has welcomed me since I arrived at the club. There is not one specific player, all the team have welcomed me, all the staff, so it has been good."

Liverpool defender set for surprise World Cup call-up

By JOHN ANTHONY

GARETH Southgate will turn to Joe Gomez to solve his World Cup defender crisis.

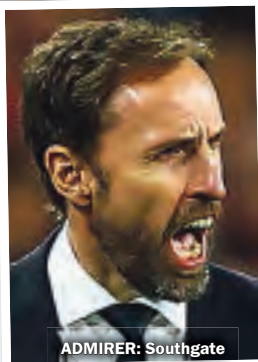

The versatile Liverpool defender has not played for England for two years.

He suffered a long-term knee injury the last time he was on international duty and has only just fully recovered.

The 11-cap stopper showed his quality against Manchester City at the weekend when he kept Erling Haaland, Phil Foden and Kevin De Bruyne quiet.

And England boss Gareth Southgate is ready to call him up after losing a couple of key defenders to injury.

Both Kyle Walker and Reece James are struggling to make the plane for Qatar, while Trent Alexander-Arnold has also been on the sidelines with an ankle problem.

James is definitely out of the World Cup with a knee issue. And it will be touch and go for Manchester City's Walker as he recovers from a groin operation. He is unlikely to be ready for the first group game.

Southgate is a big fan of the 25-year-old who can play at right-back or in the heart of defence.

That versatility could be a major asset for the Three Lions at the World Cup, which kicks off next month.

He has Kieran Trippier too but he can only operate on the flank, while Walker was often played as part of a back three – a role that would suit Gomez better.

Southgate's No2 Steve Holland was spotted in the Anfield stands at the weekend keeping a close eye on Gomez's form.
